Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick. The sacrament through which Jesus continues to heal the sick among us. Anointing is offered at each Mass on the first weekend of the month, or call Fr. Edison @ 924-7111.

Sacrament of Marriage. The sacrament through which God calls a man and woman to become visible signs of His Love. Call Fr. Edison or Deacon John @ 924-7111 for more info.

Sacrament of Holy Orders. The sacrament through which the mission Jesus entrusted to the apostles is continued in the Church. To learn more about vocations to the ordained ministry, please call Fr. Edison or Deacon John @ 924-7111.

Spiritual Exercise 7 Pray for wisdom.

*If you need wisdom,
ask our generous God,
and He will give it to you.
He will not rebuke you.*

- James 1:5

In the parable of the dishonest steward, Jesus brings to our attention the cunning, astuteness, or shrewdness of the children of the world (associated with dishonest wealth, small matters, wealth that fails, and mammon). Jesus desires that the children of light exercise the same insightfulness or wisdom. After all, the children of light in the parable are associated with true wealth, great matters, eternal dwellings, and God.

Inspired by the Gospel reading today, let us pray for wisdom. Let us do so because God matters above and beyond anything and anyone else. From God alone comes true wisdom, and true wisdom enables us to see as God sees and to understand as God understands.

How can we continually grow in God's wisdom?

- By knowing His Word. Make it a habit to read the Scriptures daily. Reading the Gospel of the day can be the foundation of our encounters with God in prayer. And reading the Bible (in its entirety, from one book to the next) is a good way to appreciate salvation history.
- By living according to the life of the community of disciples. Make it a habit to read the Catechism daily. The Catechism is available online for free. In our parish, we have gone through the first three section, and this year, we focus on the fourth, on prayer. The Catechism allows us to know, to celebrate, and to live what we believe as Catholics.

Remember: the Sacred Scriptures go hand in hand with Sacred Tradition. The Word of God is made visible in the life of the community of faithful disciples. Let us overcome the noise of the world with the voice of God in our midst.

Thank you for going through these spiritual exercises. On the surface, the exercises are too simple. But when developed as habits, consistently done, these exercises can make us better and holier disciples.

Buen camino!

The Rite of Christian Initiation

The RCIA is the process in which people investigate the Catholic faith to discern if it is a good fit for their faith life. We all have had times during our lives of doubts, fear, and frustration. The RCIA is a time to examine our life in the light of faith, and decide whether this is our time to embrace the Catholic Church.

So, who may participate in the RCIA? Those who have never been baptized. Those who have been baptized in another Christian denomination but would like to join the Roman Catholic Church. Those who were baptized Catholic but have received little or no instruction and now wish to prepare for the Sacraments of the Eucharist and/or Confirmation.

How to get started. Please contact Deacon John Payne at john.payne@dor.org or call him directly at (585) 230-4597. The RCIA class is held every Sunday after the 8:30 AM Mass in the Music Room.

We're looking forward to meeting you.

Membership & Parish Life

because Jesus called a community

In the Spirit of Accompaniment

His son said to him, 'Father, I have sinned against heaven and against you; I no longer deserve to be called your son.' But his father ordered his servants, 'Quickly bring the finest robe and put it on him; put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet.'

- Luke 15:21-22

The Bible presents to us God as multi-faceted in character. No single attribute exhaustively identifies Him. It is good to keep this reality in mind as we journey to and with God.

The very personal stories in the Bible reveal to us our very personal God

- What attribute of God resonates well with you? Why do think this is? Does this limit your experience of God?
- What attribute of God do you find more challenging to accept? Why do think God has to reveal Himself in this way, too?

Saint Patrick, pray for us!

Children's Sessions on First Saturdays

As we go through the Eucharistic Revival, let us not forget but remember the younger members of our parish, our children - our children are very much part of our Eucharistic journey. Jesus Himself wanted the children to be brought to Him.

In our parish, we offer Eucharistic Adoration on the first Saturday of every month, from 9 AM (Mass) until 3 PM (with Benediction at 2:55 PM).

Please know that during the hour from 10 until 11 AM, we offer two short sessions for children - first at 10 AM, and second, at 10:30 AM. The sessions are held in the Alcove and are meant to introduce and teach our children about Eucharistic Adoration. From the Alcove, parents then take their children to church for prayer time.

These sessions are great opportunities for parents and grandparents to learn about Eucharistic devotion. For questions, call Carolyn Robinson at 924-2800.

These groups are making life better for farmworkers, refugees, people with disabilities and other marginalized folks. Here in our Diocese, two wonderful community organizations are being funded with major CCHD national grants. By supporting this collection, you are giving people on the margins a hand up, not a handout.

Capital Projects Update

When we began the repair and improvement works on our bell tower in 2017, this gave us the opportunity to assess our buildings and properties. Then, we recognized that the church building will be celebrating its 100th anniversary in 2025. In due time, the parish Building and Grounds Committee put in place a five-year capital plan to improve our facilities in view of the anniversary. We originally planned for our projects to be completed in 2023.

We have accomplished a lot since 2017. Of the exterior works, only the walls of the Parish Center and Preschool await repair work. As for the interior of the church building, input has been solicited from parishioners, and Mr. Troy Simmons from the firm MPSB has rendered three sets of drawings based on parishioners' input. These renderings have already been presented to the bishop.

So what is the next step? To proceed any further, we wait for the resolution of the bankruptcy that our diocese is in. While in bankruptcy, no parish in the diocese can raise funds and only emergency projects are carried out during this time. If and when non-emergency capital works are done, it is because funds had already been raised (before the bankruptcy) or are given as unsolicited donation.

Let there be light...

Be Insightful and Wise

*Jesus said to his disciples,
"A rich man had a steward who was reported to him for squandering his property."
- Luke 16:1*

That we come into the world and leave it without bringing and taking anything with us point us to the reality that everything that we temporarily own and enjoy in our brief earthly life comes from God. We are but stewards or temporary caretakers of God's blessings, be they material or spiritual.

The parable this Sunday invites us to ask ourselves, "As a steward of God, how am I doing with the blessings that He has temporarily entrusted to me?"

*He summoned him and said,
'What is this I hear about you?
Prepare a full account of your stewardship,
because you can no longer be my steward.'*

- Luke 16:2

In the parable, as the rich man found out that his steward was squandering his property. His decision was swift: he dismissed the steward! As his final act, the steward must provide his master a full account of his stewardship. For everything that was entrusted to him, how did he make use of it? Was it used well? Did it yield additional profit or bear more fruit?

*The steward said to himself, 'What shall I do, now that my master is taking the position of steward away from me?
I am not strong enough to dig and I am ashamed to beg.
I know what I shall do so that,
when I am removed from the stewardship,
they may welcome me into their homes.'
He called in his master's debtors one by one.*

- Luke 16:3-4

Apart from his rich master, the steward came to realize, rather late, that he lacked the physical strength to work and he was not willing to suffer the shame of taking on a less important work.

Reminiscent of the prodigal son, we find the steward entering into self-preservation mode. He must do something to support himself and avoid going hungry, perhaps to the point of death.

*He called in his master's debtors one by one.
To the first he said,
'How much do you owe my master?'
He replied, 'One hundred measures of olive oil.'
He said to him, 'Here is your promissory note.
Sit down and quickly write one for fifty.'
Then to another the steward said,
'And you, how much do you owe?'
He replied, 'One hundred kors of wheat.'
The steward said to him, 'Here is your promissory note;
write one for eighty.'*

- Luke 16:5-7

In his self-preservation mode, the steward reveals his shrewdness - he tried to gain the favor of his master's debtors by inciting them to lie by lowering the value of what they owe the master.

And the master commended that dishonest steward for acting prudently.

"For the children of this world are more prudent in dealing with their own generation than are the children of light."

- Luke 16:8

Here, it would be of help to us to look at the Greek word phronimos, which can be translated with positive connotation as wisely, or negatively as shrewdly, cunningly or astutely. A neutral connotation would be insightfully. This should bring us some clarity: Jesus was not commending the dishonesty of the steward but rather his insightfulness.

Through the parable, Jesus challenges us, "Why only be insightful with earth or money matters when God and eternal matters carry the most and lasting value?" Only a fool would truly value the temporal and passing at the expense of losing the permanent and eternal.

*No servant can serve two masters.
He will either hate one and love the other,
or be devoted to one and despise the other.
You cannot serve both God and mammon."*

- Luke 16:13

On journey, let us keep our sight on God and His eternal gifts. Let us be insightful and wise. Buen camino!
